TWO MORE VICTIMS

Mr. Teasland and Miss Kirk Surrender to Dan Cupid.

Wednesday morning that confirmed bachelor, George Teasland, threw up his hands and surrendered unconditionally to the god of love. For some time the neighbors in the vicinity of his residence have been suspicious that he was becoming tired of fighting the battle of single blessedness. Repairs and alterations, new furniture and bric-a-brac all indicated that something was going to happen, so when George appeared Wednesday morning just before the departure of the V. & T. train all dressed up in his Sunday clothes, the curiously inclined requested an explanation. The answer, [illegible] that he intended visiting his brother at Mound House. That the answer left a lurking doubt was proved later on. He boarded the cars and passed straight through not even stopping until the next train to apologize to his brother Fred for his misconduct. His arrival was anticipated of course and everything was in readiness for the ceremony, which was performed on schedule time.

The happy groom and his wife returned that evening to Reno to take up their permanent residence. The lurking suspicion then became a practical demonstration in the form of a coal oil can accompanied by a small boy, in large numbers. Sweet music filled the air along Mill street for some time untill George made his appearance and gracefully acknowledged that it was his treat. Peace and quiet was immediately restored and the tread of life in that section again resumed the even tenor of its way. The JOURNAL joins with Mr. Teasland's friends in wishing him and his bride a long and happy life.

An Absent Debtor.

A number of business people in this city are saying naughty words not loud but deep. They want their money or their goods back. It seems that a young man, who is engaged in business here, has had an extensive credit with them and they are unable to get coin or other satisfaction.

The amounts he is alleged to owe range from small bills to accounts above a thousand dollars. Among those who are maddest are the purchasers of coupons in the piano voting contest. The young in question is somewhere in California but is expected back today.

Notice to Wheelmen.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN

Report By the Nevada Section of the U. S. Weather Bureau.

CARSON CITY, Nev., July 31, 1900.

Unusually hot weather prevailed throughout the State during the past week. At Carson City the daily excess of temperature averaged 7 degrees above normal. Maximum temperatures of 100 degrees and over were recorded in various parts of the State on the 28th and 29th. The week was practically rainless, the weather being generally clear and sunshiny.

The weather conditions were highly favorable for work in the hay and grain fields. In the southern portion the wheat, barley, rye and oats have been nearly all cut and stacked and threshing has begun; the yields are generally reported above an average. The third and fourth crops of alfalfa are being cut and stacked in good condition. In other portions of the State the harvesting of wheat, barely and oats has begun, and the cutting of wild hay and the second crop of alfalfa is under way. Corn is in roasting ear and new patatoes are ready for use in late districts. Garden truck is growing fast and looks promising where water is plentiful for irrigation.

The hot winds and high tempertare of the past two weeks have caused a rapid drying up the range feed, but notwithstanding the livestock in most sections is doing well on the feed which is now available.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTION.

PURSUANT TO RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED by the Democratic State Central Committee April 11th, 1900, a Democratic State Convention was called to meet at Virginia City on Thursday, September 6, 1900,

At 1 o'clock P. M. for the purpose of nominating three Presidential Electors; three alternates; one Member of Congress; one Supreme Judge and two Regents of the State University. Under the standard of apportionment adopted by the State Central Committee, the different counties are entitled to delegates as follows:

Churchill	3
Lyon	8
Storey	19
White Pine	5
Nye	4
Washoe	17
Elko	16
Ormsby	9
Douglas	3
Lincoln	15
Lander	6
Eureka	8
Humboldt	12
Esmeralda	6

By resolution,

Saturday, August 25, 1900,

Was designated for the holding of primaries, or otherwise selecting the delegates from the different counties. It was furthermore ordered, that wherever considered feasible and practicable, the election of delegates should be by primaries. When not so considered by the Democratic County Central Committees, such committees should name the delegates from their respective counties and in such counties as have no Democratic Central Committees, the local members of the Democratic State Central Committee shall either call primaries or themselves select the delegates from their respective counties.

The test for voters at the primaries and for delegates is as follows:

"I favor the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, and I pledge myself to vote for the nominees of the Democratic State Convention."

FRIDAY, AUGUST 3, 1900

THE JOURNAL IS REPUBLICAN.

Reports come from all sources which indicate a general desire for more information upon the issues before the people as made in the Democratic national platform. There has not been a convention since the government was organized that was placed in a like position as the convention at Kansas City. At no time have like questions been presented for solution as there are presented in the canvass the country has entered upon. The times demand intelligence and intelligent action by the American people, and they seem to have made up their mind that the times demand their attention, as the questions before them are equal to the present and future of the republic. The size of the questions as they approach them appear to inspire the more thoughtful about the necessity there is for investigation.

When the people turn to the Democratic platform and then enter upon an examination of the political questions presented in the arraignment made in the platform of the party in power for its violations of the integrity of the republic, they meet at the threshold, as a result of the most casual investigation, intelligence of attacks made upon the government system of the republic; which intelligence causes alarm to the patriotic citizen who loves his country more than the bubbles arising upon the foul surface of a future slavery to organized capital represented by trusts, having as an outgrowth imperialism.

When examination is made the mind is impressed with the danger there is in the course of the government at Washington to all there is worth preserving in the fabric made by the fathers of the grandest system of government presented to men. The benighted creatures who slur because of ignorance the principles made plain in the declaration and made strong by the constitution continue secure in their disgrace, because they continue to be tolerated by a humane people whose enlarged magnanimity has its origin in and receives largely its support from the principles made sacred by the declaration and constitution.

Strange it is, yet it is true, that these people receive toleration and protection from the source they denounce. The wretch who magnifies his ignorance in his limited imagination by sneering at the constitution is unworthy to be termed an American, and is fitted in all particulars for the slavery he invites. These people are more defiant than they are intelligent, which has its cause in the slave character they possess, and have of their volition taken upon them. The relation they sustain to citizenship is low, because it belongs to a condition of servitude that was abolished by an amendment to the constitution they would stain by vile reproach.

Such people by their low standard as citizens disgrace their country when they make slighting remarks about its government structure. But, provoking as it is to hear such remarks and to learn about like remarks being made, there is a ridiculous side to the air of superior wisdom assumed by ignorance, which to the present has aided in protecting these people from assault by the more manly and therefore more patriotic among the people.

The more patriotic are becoming more earnest as the subject matter included in the canvass is becoming better understood by the people. The wickedness of imperialism, when a free government is made subject to its inroads by those who secured power by fraudulent representations made to the people upon issues formed to that end, is not a subject that will secure support from those who understand the means which have been and are used to deceive the honest and upright citizen. A country is not in a hopeful position when its enemies control it as its people must suffer the consequences which will follow such control if it is continued till the purposes of its enemies are matured.

It may be said the language used includes more than facts will justify which will be untrue if it is so said, as the charge is more than capable of being sustained by every position taken by the administration and a majority in the last session of Congress. It may be well that the readers of the JOURNAL should know that it means its position shall be understood upon questions that will not admit of any compromise by those who have been taught to respect and regard as sacred each and all the principles included in a government system that secures to its people the natural rights which were given to man when the breath of life was bestowed upon him by an Allwise first cause.

It is the system intended for man by natures God, which is capable of being sustained by the most positive proof, which gives to all other systems a position inferior to that occupied by our system and hitherto sustained by the American people. Should it be possible for a man who loves his country and who is an American to support a course pursued by a party or by an administration given to his country by a party, that makes an appearance to disregard the rights of a people who are entitled to receive and have the benefits of the United States system as provided by the constitution, there is something wrong in his mental or moral nature that demands his attention.

The JOURNAL will sustain as near as it is possible to do so the position of an aged soldier of the Revolution to whom the writer, when a small boy, had the impudence to say, "Are you a Whig or a Democrat?" A reply—"I am a Republican" was promptly made, which required additional years to those the writer had lived to solve, but when it was understood he became an heir to the old soldier's political faith, which may aid to explain the JOURNAL'S view upon questions before the people presented in the Democratic platform.

MINES AND MINING

Items About Nevada's Leading Industry Clipped From Exchanges.

There is enough ore exposed in the D L[illegible] r mine, in Lincoln county, to keep the mill going constantly for year.

Mark L. Elliott has started work grading at Belleville, Esmeralda county, for his plant to work the tailings of the Holmes Mining company.

The Barnes and Anderson mill near Independence, will be ready to start up next week. They have out a large quantity of high grade gold ore.

On the authority of the White Pine News there are 300 000 tons of ore blocked out in the Chainman mine at Ely, ranging in value from $5 to $116 per ton in gold. According to this statement the purchasers of the property, who paid only $150,000 for it, have a "good thing."

The Honeyman Benefit.

There are increasing demands for seats at the Honeyman benefit to be given Friday evening of next week. A very interesting program will be rendered. It will be extremely patriotic in its nature. Seats down stairs are 75 cents. Upstairs, 50 cents.

Merchants, Attention.

All merchants and others interested in the piano voting contest are requested to meet in Wheelmen's hall to-day at 1 o'clock, when the report of the committee will be read and such other matters discussed as may properly come before the meeting.

FISHES WITH LUNGS.

QUEER CREATURES THAT LIVE ON LAND OR IN WATER.

One Specimen That Lives Buried Under the River Bed During the Dry Season—India's Climbing Perch and Siam's Inland Traveler.

Every one knows that most fishes breathe in a different manner from that of the greater number of animals and that they get the oxygen necessary for their life from the water and not directly from the atmosphere. Water dissolves a certain amount of oxygen, and the gills of fishes take this out of the water as our lungs take it from the mixed air we breathe. The gills are bundles of fine blood vessels, covered by a delicate membrane that permits oxygen to pass through it to the blood so long as it is moist, but usually when a fish is taken out of water the gills dry, and suffocation follows.

The gills are very thin and may be torn or injured by slight violence. Mud, sand, sawdust or any of the many similar impurities in water may lacerate or irritate them, so nature has put filters, like combs, just in front of them to strain such foreign matters out of the water before reaching the real gills. These filters are called "gill rakers" and act as do the gratings put over gutters to hold back trash that might block them up, but the gutters gratings get clogged sometimes, and so do the gill rakers. When this happens, the fish must die, and it is well known that the sawdust in our streams has been a chief factor in the destruction of our fresh water fishes.

But all fishes are not dependent on their gills. Some of them, like our common carp and goldfish, come to the surface now and then to take in drafts of air, and eels can travel overland around dams or other obstructions. These efforts are trivial compared with those of some fishes found in other parts of the world.

These are the lung fishes, or dipnoi, as naturalists call them, and the accounts of them seem to border on the marvelous. In one group of these animals the "swimbladder" is a kind of lung instead of a mere float, as it is in most fishes, and in some strange fishes in India there is a hollow space in the skull that acts as a lung, the walls of it having clusters of blood vessels about it, just as the vesicles of our lungs have. These fishes can bury themselves deep in the mud when the dry season comes on and live through it till the rains fill the rivers again.

A fish in the Gambia river makes a cocoon of mucus and mud, in which it has been brought from Senegambia to London, where the cocoon was gently washed off and the fish found to be living. The naturalist Natterer discovered a similar fish in the Amazon but this one, the lepidosiren of science, is one of the rarest specimens in museums.

In the United States there is a fish, the bowfin, that can be drowned by stretching a net below the surface of the water so that it cannot get to air.

Dr. Hector, the government geologist of New Zealand, reported finding some fish about 5½ inches long among the roots of trees at a depth of four feet in stiff clay. The place where they were found was some 37 feet above the Hokitika river, where there had been a backwater during a time of flood. The mud fishes are common in New Zealand, and the early settlers were surprised to dig up fish with their potatoes, as farmers on Long Island are said to be in doubt whether their spades will unearth potatoes or clams.

The most famous of the lung fishes is the climbing perch of India that has often been found several feet up the mangroves. These animals migrate overland when their own streams fail and are captured in great numbers by the natives, to whom they are great delicacies. Ceylon has several species of them. The island is dotted over with bogs of thick, chocolate colored mud, covered by a sod of reeds and grasses, and this mud teems with fish. The Cingalese clear off a space and wait till the fish come up to fill their air bladder, when they catch them in strong dip nets.

Sir John Bowring says that some lung fishes in Siam go as much as three miles from water and that they have been seen flapping along a dusty road.

The lung fishes constitute a wonderful and interesting group of animals and show the wide range through which nature can adapt creatures to their surroundings. Biology is full of such instances, but few are more striking than this.—Washington Star.

An Exact Likeness

The greatest trouble most photographers experience is getting EXACT LIKENESS. Here is where modern appliances come to the rescue. The RIVERSIDE STUDIO is the most up-to-date on the Pacific Coast; the fixtures are all MODERN and none but EXPERIENCED ARTISTS are employed. You can rest assured that if your photograph work is done at the Riverside Studio it will be finished in an artistic manner.

Harry Davis has received all the new magazines. He will order any publication that he does not have in stock. He sells a stock of JOURNALS every day.

Is Necessary for Health.

A local physician told a JOURNAL reporter yesterday that it would be well to impress upon the people of Reno the danger of drinking water from shallow wells.

Artesian water is the best, but river water is greatly superior to that of dug wells. There are some cases of typhoid fever in the city at present, as there have been in former years.

Criminal neglect on the part of physicians and nurses has permitted the escape of germs. They thrive in water, and may be carried by seepage into these wells.

CRIMES AND CRIMINALS

Daily Resume of Transgressors and Transgressions in This Burg.

Yesterday morning, a man who is employed on the Bates ranch this side of Verdi, notified the police that he had been robbed the night previous in the Orchard, a First street resort.

He says that he was perfectly sober when he went in. He took three drinks, all of which he alleges were served by a fellow who sings in that resort. He immediately lost consciousness and awoke after sunrise lying beside a fence east of China town. His purse, containing $77.50, was missing.

The man felt dizzy and ill. He consulted a physician who pronounced him a victim of knockout drops. Complaint was made at police head quarters and the drink server was placed under arrest. He deposited $25 cash bail for his appearance this morning.

One of our young bloods, who is nevertheless old enough to know better than to disgrace his family, amused himself Saturday night by "terrorizing" the tenderloin. He finally kicked in a door at "No. 12," for which offense the constable ran him in. Monday he pleaded guilty [illegible] have been given [illegible] had not the proprietress paid the costs.

Several days ago the officers noticed a suspicious character on the streets. He is a young, smooth faced person with the expression of a crook. The constables sized him up as the man who had held up a saloon near Bodie a short time before. The Mono county sheriff was notified but he declined to take his man back for trial, saying "Mono is well rid of him."

Well, Reno isn't. We have it on good authority that this young crook made the remark the other evening: "I know where $600 could be gotten easy if I had a nervy pal."

Since the recent article in the JOURNAL regarding the camping of hobos in public places, the railroad people have kept them out of the little park. Now, if Lamb Bevier would only get a shotgun and kill off the stinking drunks that make themselves at home on the Palace Hotel corner, he'll be doing a good service for his country. Mr. Bevier don't like a drunken hobo, nohow, but he is one and they are legion.

THE LOCAL PROSPECTS

Brief Items Concerning the Mining Prospects Around This City.

The boiler has been put in position at the new smelter site.

Handsome specimen gold rock is being taken from Cause and Morton's mine on Peavine.

The Reno Smelting and Milling Company has opened offices in the second floor of the Bank of Nevada building.

Rock showing fine particles of free gold has been struck on one of the O'Sullivan-Flanigan claims. The quality is first class, but the quantity is limited as yet.

J. Hill, who has been prospecting back of Peavine for some months, has struck something good at last. He is down fifty feet on a stringer of peacock copper that assays nearly one half metal. Mr. Hill has gone to San Francisco to dispose of his property. He left a crew of men to work the mine.

Will Go to Asia.

Harry F. Stewart, who is now in Sumpter, Oregon, is expected back about the 12th for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Stewart. He will purchase milling machinery in San Francisco and will take it to Corea.

Mr. Stewart will be accompanied by C. M. Fassett. Mr. Fassett is a brother of Mrs. C. T. Bender. He and Mr. Stewart will spend a year in Asia, superintending a large mine at gilt-edged salaries.

Democratic Committee Meeting.

The Democratic Central Committee of Washoe county will meet at the office of Dr. S. C. Gibson in Reno at 8 o'clock p. m., on Thursday, August 9th, 1900.

The meeting is called to consider the matter of the selection of delegates to the State Convention. All Democrats are invited to attend.

S. C. GIBSON, Chairman,
B. CAMPBELL, Secretary. td

Met With an Accident.

Ed Dennis, an old time employe of the Southern Pacific, is here on a visit. Mr. Dennis met with an accident at Sacramento several weeks ago and almost lost a hand. The middle finger of his right hand was broken in three places. He expects to resume his position on the road in a short time.

OLINGHOUSE PROSPERING

The Dispatch Tells of a Flourishing Washoe County Camp.

Joe Effrick was down last week. They are taking ore from the Renegade slowly and Joe says the camp is all right.

W. C. Williams continues to take out rich ore. He has bought a fine span of horses and wagon and harness, built a new residence and proposes to make things comfortable as he can well afford to do.

Fred Younghans and family came down from the hills yesterday as Fred's leave of absence has expired. The folks are highly elated with the returns from the placers and had nuggets from $1 to $12 each.

E. Olinghouse has a great deal of work laid out to be done on the Mountain Boy and has plenty of ore in sight. He took thirty pounds of specimen rock from the Mountain Boy that gave $110 at the mint.

We are informed that rich ore is being taken from the Cabin No. 2. The value was given to us as $5,000 for the next milling. We do not know how close to those figures the ore will mill but the party is a good judge.

Jeff Poole was here yesterday and said that they were taking out a few hundred on the Slip to tide them over hard times and the No. 2 was showing good ore. It is likely another drift will be run to hit the ledge at a lower point and permit stoping.

W. H. Jackson and his men are working hard on the Jumper. In the bottom of the shaft, now sixty-seven seven feet, there is a fine showing of $30 ore. A tunnel is being run to tap the shaft. The Jumper will make a wonderful showing for the year 1900.

LITTLE LOCAL BREVITIES

Items of Street and Town too Brief for Separate Heads.

Fire boxes 7, 8 and 9 were placed in position yesterday.

An accident to the ferryboat Solano caused the flier to be six hours late last night.

H. L. Oakes, the amateur detective, has accepted a job with the Arcade bootblack stand.

Mrs. Spencer, of Mill street, is quite unwell, having suffered from a chill with some symptoms of malarial fever.

Charlie Wilson says this is the time of year to Willow bugs for trout bait. He is making good catches nowadays.

After the preliminary test has been made the firemen are expected to respond to any alarm turned in from any of the boxes in place.

Tom Willets has gone to New York to take possession of a small fortune, recently bequeathed to him. He hopes to return to Reno this fall.

The old Riverside mill flume has been torn down. It will be reconstructed within the next two weeks. The flume is 1,300 feet long.

Rev. E. W. Van Deventer, Superintendent of Methodist church work, has returned from an arduous trip through Eastern Nevada. He will leave again tomorrow, spending the Sunday in Virginia City.

A Composite Brick.

O. H. Perry, the assayer, has made a copper brick from all the bits of ore recently submitted to him for testing. The specimens came from Copper Gulch, Steamboat, Peavine and Dogskin.

Feed the Inner Man.

The best and choicest edibles in this city can be had at Cunningham & Ferguson's grocery. This firm sells fresh and up-to-date goods. tf

PERSONAL MENTION.

Gossip About the Migrating Public as They Come and Go.

Judge Bonnifield is down from Carson.

R. C. Moore returned to Lovelock yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Preston of Bodie are visiting Reno.

Surveyor-General Kelley came down from Carson yesterday.

Stanley Ward is recovering. He had been threatened with brain fever.

W. O. H. Martin and family have returned from a visit to California watering places.

C. C. Wallace of Nevada and Nevada City was in town yesterday whispering mining news into receptive ears.

John Sparks has gone to Kansas City to receive a consignment of pure blooded Herefords from England.

Newt Bakeless and George Pierce and families are off on their annual camping trip through the mountains.

George W. Mapes returned from San Francisco yesterday. His family will remain in the city during the heated term.

Frank Coffin, King Ryan and Fred Hewitt will leave in a day or two on a brief fishing excursion to White's Canyon.

Manager Richardson of Sunderland's emporium is letting his whiskers grow, preparatory to taking a vacation in the mountains.

A Poor Millionaire.

Lately starved in London because he could not digest his food. Early use of Dr. King's New Life Pills would have saved him. They strengthen the stomach, aid digestion, promote assimilation, improve appetite. Price 25c. Money back if not satisfied. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson druggist.

Many Things Are Meant

By many dealers who claim to handle groceries When they advertise GOOD GROCERIES no mention is made of PRICE. When price is mentioned QUALITY IS OVERLOOKED. Again, sometimes they dwell on the virtues of a LARGE STOCK. In this case no claim is made to carrying FRESH GOODS.

We Preach the Three Main Virtues of Groceries—

Quality
Quantity
Price

They are mentioned in their regular order and the happy combination is causing hosts of pleased patrons at our store.
